

BLAME DOCTORED BOOZE FOR DEATH OF 2 WORKERS

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Dec. 2.—Sudden deaths of two workmen employed on construction work at Ellwood City, George Ellis and James Deppert, are charged by the county detective and state police to be due to doctored whiskey, which they are said to have secured at a speakeasy. Four arrests have been made on suspicion.

An analysis of the contents of the men's stomachs will be made. Both workmen quietly slept away their lives.

YANK Baffles British Conjuror by Egg Trick

LONDON, Dec. 2.—At a suburban variety show a conjuror was doing a trick with an egg. At a given point in the performance he called upon someone in the audience to assist him. In response there stepped out an American soldier, to whom the conjuror handed the egg asking him to examine it.

The soldier seemed to roll it between his hands, and it vanished! No one was more surprised than the performer when the egg finally was produced from under the soldier's chin.

"Sorry to interrupt your show, Bud," he apologized, but I played this game myself before I joined up."

HOBOMONKEY "MOOCHES" "HAND-OUTS" AT DOORS

MARYSVILLE, Dec. 2.—Northern California's hobo monkey, who dropped off a freight train at Roseville, then is thought to have been his way to Lincoln, has appeared in Marysville.

He was seen cavorting on top of the paragon of the Presbyterian Church, eagerly eyed by young America of Marysville.

"Tramp monkey" was run out of Roseville after he frightened women by "mooching" at back doors for a "hand-out." Next he was captured on top of a two-story business building at Lincoln. He escaped and fled up a creek.

He has traveled thirty or forty miles.

HAPPENINGS IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Wilson Hears President Read Message to Congress—Gala Performance of Soldier Play.

MRS. Wilson went to the Capitol today to hear the President read his message to Congress and explain the reasons back of his trip to Europe. She was accompanied by a little party of guests.

Yesterday Mrs. Wilson went for a short motor ride, leaving the White House alone and stopping at the home of an old friend, presumably for a farewell visit.

The Italian Ambassador and Countess di Cellere, the Charge d'Affaires of Great Britain and Mrs. Colville Barclay, and the Military Attache of the French Embassy and Mrs. Colardet are among those who have boxes for the gala performance of "Who Stole the Hat?" to be given at the Belasco Theater tonight by the boys from the Aberdeen Proving Ground. The production will run through the week and the proceeds will go to help the wounded soldiers, sailors and marines and to build a gymnasium and recreation hall at Aberdeen.

Farewell Tea.
The Italian Ambassador and Countess di Cellere entertained at a farewell tea at the embassy yesterday afternoon. They leave Washington Tuesday evening to sail with the President.

Walter Hines Page, former American ambassador to England, and Mrs. Page have taken the Carrivick cottage at Pinehurst, N. C., for the winter, and will have with them their daughter, Mrs. C. G. Loring.

Senator-elect and Mrs. Medill McCormick have returned to Washington, and are established for the season at 22 Jackson place, which they have leased for the season. The house, which the Netherlands legation was established while Chevalier van Rappard was minister, was occupied by President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the time when the White House was being remodeled and redecorated.

Dine Swiss Minister.

The Minister of Salvador and Mme. Zaidler will give a tea at the Pan-American Union Building on Tuesday, December 10, to present Miss Julia Zaidler to society.

The marriage of Miss Gladys Marry Safford, daughter of Mrs. James De Forest Safford, of Manchester-by-the-Sea and Washington, and Durward Crinstead, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Crinstead, of Louisville, Ky., was solemnized at noon today in St. Thomas Church, followed by a reception and breakfast at Rauscher's.

Miss Safford was attended by her sister, Mrs. John Stevens, of Boston, as matron of honor, and Miss Elsie Downing, as maid of honor. Little Miss Lella May Stevens was flower girl and Master Allyn Safford, ring bearer. Lieut. Stuart Clement, U. S. A., served as best man and the ushers were Lieut. L. A. Wendell, Lieut. Claude B. Hewitt, Lieut. George Fuller and Lieutenant Holt, U. S. A.

The Rev. Dr. C. Ernest Smith performed the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Lieutenant Safford, U. S. A.

Mrs. Safford entertained the bridal party at dinner at the Shoreham last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Willert will go to New York shortly and Mr. Willert will call next week for England.

Miss Alice Regus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark L. Regus, who is a debutante this season, will probably have no formal coming out, as Mr. and Mrs. Regus are uncertain as to the length of their stay in Washington. He is an official of the Post Administration and will return to his home in California or go to New York as soon as that organization is disbanded.

Mrs. Andrew S. White, of Fayette, N. Y., is at the Washington Hotel for a few days while her husband is duck shooting at the Rock Bay Club, Va. She was formerly Miss Nellie Claire Howard, of Washington. Mr. and Mrs. White expect to spend Christmas at New York, after which they will go to Palm Beach for two months.

Miss Elizabeth Adams has gone to Boston for a short visit.

Bainbridge Colby, of the shipping board, is at the St. Regis Hotel, New York.
